The social work department also pitched in by providing platelets, arranging blankets and medical aid during the second wave. This initiative not only helped professionally upgrade their skills in social work but also provide humanitarian relief to the sufferers. In the field of sustainability, IEHE maintains a zero plastic bag tolerance policy. The campus has been declared a tobacco free zone for its multiple societal benefits. Tree plantation activities are routinely organised. Health camps were also organised by the NSS and Rotract club organised blood donation camps and distributed clothes and food to the needy. The staff members also purchased oxygen concentrators for a district hospital in Hoshangabad.

In an elite institute our focus has always been to go beyond the prescribed syllabus. To facilitate higher order learning and to encourage the Learning of a wider range of subject content. Several Subjects largely with a practical component attached to theoretical concepts make very good use of various student centric methods. For Eg. the psychology department runs a course in positive psychology to enhance the positive outlook of students of that subject. Several other subjects such as foods and nutrition, forensic science, biotechnology, chemistry and physics also incorporate learning through hands-on experience. Additionally, the students are encouraged to go for training and do internships at various government and non government organisations. This gives a clear idea of the career that they wish to opt for. Several problem solving methodology such as tutorials, webinars, workshops, seminars and guest lectures allow the students to not just develop skills in organising events but also give an opportunity to them to clarify several doubts related to their subject as well as their careers.

allow uninhibited honest feedback of the students. These suggestions help in restructuring of the syllabus. Along with these, final year students of undergraduate courses engage in informal discussions with the Faculties of the Departments and suggest changes, if any, in the ongoing syllabus in order to make the learning wholesome. These changes are incorporated in the formal discussions of the Board of Studies where faculties decide upon it.

The Institute does not have any elected or nominated student's council or body. However to ensure students' participation the Extra Co- Curricular Committee appoints few students, who showcase managerial and organizing skills in activities of Institute, as members for a year. They help in organizing various events and activities in an innovative manner under literary, cultural and sports segment.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Provide the weblink on the Institutional website regarding the Best practices as per the prescribed format of NAAC

The session 2020-21 was the year of pandemic. The lockdown situation in the country witnessed an unprecedented circumstance. The staff of IEHE geared up to teach in the best possible manner to our students. Microsoft Teams subscription was arranged. All students and staff profiles and passwords were generated and all classes were taught in online mode as per the time table.

This facilitated the smooth teaching in online process during the lockdown which was a big asset for students who had moved back to their homes because of the lockdown.

1. Objectives of the practice (50 - 60 words):

After the online admission was completed, the classes started in an online mode due to the pandemic. The Institute arranged for MS Teams subscription and classroom teaching for all undergraduates and postgraduate classes started. The lockdown eased out but as the hostels were not opened and the govt. did not allow offline classes hence all teaching learning took place in the online mode.

1. The Practice (250 - 300 words):

The teaching learning process using MS teams during the lock down made the best possible use of the time of students and staff. The staff used an Interactive whiteboard and screen sharing for making teaching more effective. Practicals were also conducted through interactive mode (SciLab) while numericals were taught with various interactive modes including Videos and PowerPoint presentations thereby making learning effective. The class notes were shared with the students online. The students also submitted their assignments online. Various innovative ways were devised by staff to make teaching and learning eased out.

1. Obstacles faced if any and strategies adopted to overcome them (150 - 200 words):

The students who were in rural areas lacked net connnectivity and faced difficulties in attending online classes. There were students who did not possess smartphones and laptops also faced difficulty in attending online classes. Power cuts, low bandwidth, device issues sometimes caused disruption in online teaching.

Some students did not have soundproof place to study and were distracted due to a non classroom environment

1. Impact of the practice (100 - 120 words):

During the troubled times, the teaching did not get hampered and stayed connected with the curriculum, staff and their classmates. The teachers tried their best to teach the syllabus in an interactive and interesting manner. They also acted as mentors and guide and provided help in the best possible manner.

In line with the Government initiatives on the pandemic, the teachers were able to mobilize groups of students to not only be of academic help but also reach out to the under-privileged and deprived sections of society. This was of benefit in the development of confidence and a strong sense of social responsibility amongst several students of the Institute thereby communicating the powerful message of social service through the groups that already existed on the Institute portal.

1. Resources required:

A stable internet connection (WiFi Facility) for staff to conduct online classes smoothly from the institute's premises is of utmost importance. It was observed that many faculties had to depend on their own resources to conduct classes. Additionally, many classrooms did not have working switchboards due to which faculties could not charge their devices during the online classes.

The session 2020-21 was the year of Pandemic. The Institute encouraged it's staff to use the Institute Portal for conducting tests, quiz etc for CCE. The COVID-19 resulting in lockdown caused closure of the Institute. The classes, tests and assignments were conducted online. Fortunately, the Institute for Excellence in Higher Education had improvised the facility of access to the inhouse portal to the staff and students in the year 2019-20. This resulted in the smooth transition of information from the teachers to the students and vice-versa. This also facilitated the online evaluation procedures that were a necessity during the pandemic time period. Not only was the staff vigilant about the issues being confronted by the students but was also in a position to solve several academic as well as issues of personal importance to specific students. This facilitated the smooth conduction of online end-semester examination during the lockdown which was a big asset to students who had moved back to their homes because of the lockdown.

1. Objectives of the practice (50 - 60 words): During Continuous Comprehensive Evaluation (CCE) system of the Institute students appear for regular tests, presentation, class room teaching, and group discussion etc throughout the session. The nature of evaluation is based on semi-surprise test; hence the students are regular in class and are diligent in their online studies. The Institute arranged software for end term exam

Due to pandemic the switchover from offline to online teaching learning & evaluation process was easy. This initiative was of particular importance for the final year students who were seeking admissions in other colleges in India and abroad.

1. The Practice (250 - 300 words): This also put in place the use of the new software which came in handy for the evaluation of the test papers. The significance of the teacher-student relationship was facilitated through this online mode resulting in good academic progress as well as better teacher-student interaction which came in handy during trying times caused by the pandemic.

The Internal-Examination through Continuous-Comprehensive-Evaluation (CCE) mode and External-Examination (semester end examination) both have equal weightage. This pattern has been followed continuously since inception of the Institute while the UGC has recommended in its evaluation guidelines (Nov 2019) of up to 70% of internal weightage. The continuous comprehensive evaluation which is fifty percent of total marks are on the basis of semi-surprise-written tests, presentations, quizzes, assignments, group-discussion, group-talk, class-teaching, poster/chart-making, etc. The curriculum is designed in such a manner that each student selects an honours subject (two papers in each semester) and has a choice of selecting one subsidiary subject (one paper in each semester) during the entire three-year degree course. We conduct regular meetings of Board of Studies (BOS) to update and upgrade the syllabus owing to everchanging scenario. This pattern explores the learning needs of the students as well as the potential of students. It also helps develop cognitive, psychomotor and affective skills. To lay emphasis on thought process and de-emphasize memorization. The CCE helps make the process of teaching and learning a learner centric activity.

The End term exams were conducted in online mode by developing a dedicated software. The students were provided with login ID and passwords. The students could access their question papers and uploaded the answer books in stipulated time. The access was provided to each external examiner and evaluations were done, the marklist was uploaded online by the examiner, the results were declared in time.

1. Obstacles faced if any and strategies adopted to overcome them (150 - 200 words):

The students who were in rural areas lacked net connnectivity and faced difficulties in attending online evaluation. There were students who did not possess smartphones and laptops also faced difficulty in appearing in online tests. Power cuts, low bandwidth, device issues sometimes caused disruption in online exams.

In the end semester exams there was heavy traffic because each student submitted a 40 page copy which the College server couldn't handle the load of. Some students had to be provided extra time as they could not upload the copy on time due to various connectivity reasons

1. Impact of the practice (100 - 120 words): In line with the Government initiatives on the pandemic, the teachers were able to teach and evaluate students. This was of benefit in the development of confidence and a strong sense of social responsibility amongst several students of the Institute thereby communicating the powerful message of perseverance and diligence.

The Continuous Comprehensive Evaluation helps students to group the topics in easily digestible chunks. They become very confident in public speaking, creative writing and comprehension. They are more knowledgeable and have a well rounded personality. The system has created goodwill of the institute. It acts as the USP of the Institute and students from far off seek admission here.

1. Resources required:

A stable internet connection (WiFi Facility) for staff to conduct online test in classes smoothly from the institute's premises is of utmost importance. It was observed that many faculties had to depend on their own resources to conduct classes.

The end term exam was conducted with borrowed Server which had a limited capacity. The Institute requires its own server

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

- 2. There is a committee to monitor adherence to the Code of Conduct
- 3. Institution organizes professional ethics programmes for students,
- 4. Annual awareness programmes on the Code of Conduct are organized
- 7.3.1 In turbulent times such as the pandemic required our Institute to quickly shift gears from classroom teaching to online teaching. This required intensive training of the staff on teaching tools through the online mode, true to the spirit of Excellence in this Institute. The staff was thoroughly trained through a Faculty Development Program on the use of online mode of teaching along with an orientation to flipped classroom. The staff in turn trained the students to attend and participate in classroom teaching learning. They also attempted continuous comprehensive examinations like tests, presentations, quiz, and end semester examinations through the online mode fulfilling the academic responsibilities. As soon as the student got familiarised with the online procedures, they were encouraged to make presentations and submit assignments through the online mode. This gradually paved the way for numerous webinars and guest lecture which enhanced the participation and addressed the queries of students in specific areas. Since access to the Institute's library was not possible during the lockdown, the staff and students were provided with access to online library facilities through INFLIBNET.
